

Protect your legacy

Complete information helps us honor your final wishes.

At Nationwide®, fulfilling our commitment to you and your beneficiaries is our top priority. And when it's time for us to locate and make a benefit payment to your beneficiaries, we want to be sure we have the right people. To ensure that we do, we need a few very important things, based on the kind of beneficiary you designate.

For an individual:

- Legal first and last name
- Address
- Social Security number
- Date of birth
- Benefit allocation
- Relationship to annuitant

For an entity (charity, nonprofit organization, etc.):

- Complete name
- Address
- Phone number
- Benefit allocation
- Taxpayer identification number (TIN)

For a trust:

- Trustee name
- Trust number
- Address
- Title page, trustee and successor trustee designation page, and the signature page
- Taxpayer identification number (TIN)

Confidentiality and security of your personal information:

- Nationwide is committed to protecting your personal and beneficiary information
- We follow all data security laws using physical, technical and procedural safeguards
- Access to your information is limited to only those who need it to do their jobs

If you live in a community property state (AZ, CA, ID, LA, NV, NM, PR, TX, WA, or WI) and you have named someone other than your spouse as the beneficiary of this annuity contract, please review the Consent to Designation of Annuity Contract Beneficiary Form to determine whether spousal signature is required. Note: Use of the term "spouse" on this form refers to the person to whom the owner is legally married, or the contract owner's domestic partner or equivalent as recognized and allowed by federal law, or by state law in your state of residence.

The details are so important to carrying out your wishes.

Complete and accurate information is crucial for us to pay out the designated benefits to the intended beneficiaries. Without it, a benefit could be paid to the wrong person or entity, or it could be escheated (turned over) to the state. It only takes a few moments to ensure that we have the correct information — giving you the peace of mind that comes from knowing your beneficiaries will receive the legacy you meant to leave them.

If you have any questions about this form, our specialists will be happy to help you. Please call us at 800-848-6331, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Eastern time.
